Dunlop Flour
"IT MAKES EVERYTHING."

The Young Bride
The young bride who can cook has some advantage of the one who cannot—even though she has a cook to do the actual work, for then she knows the advantage of using DUNLOP FLOUR, and so has no trouble to keep him supplied with bread "like mother used to make." Insist on Dunlop.

CITIZENS HONOR POPULAR PRIEST

Rev. Father O'Farrell Completes Twenty-five Years of Service.

PUBLIC RECEPTION HELD
Royal Arch Masons, of Petersburg Elect New Officers.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Byram Street, Petersburg, Va., September 23.
To-day marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. Father J. T. O'Farrell, of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, in this city, and appropriate recognition of his long and faithful service in the city and adjacent territory was made both by the Catholics and non-Catholics of the community. Under the auspices of the women of the congregation an informal reception was held in the parochial residence, adjoining the church, from 8 to 11 o'clock tonight, in honor of the good father, and during those hours there was a constant stream of callers—Catholics and non-Catholics—to pay their respects and extend their congratulations and good wishes to the father. The evening was one of genuine pleasure, alike to priest and people.

Several priests of the diocese were present, and among the callers were the Protestant ministers of Petersburg, between whom and Father O'Farrell exist the warmest friendship and esteem. In further celebration of the anniversary, special services will be held in St. Joseph's Church Sunday morning, when solemn high mass will be offered and an appropriate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Father Coleman, of South Richmond. Father Coleman is a native of Petersburg, and for years was closely associated with St. Joseph's Church.

To further show their appreciation of the valued service of Father O'Farrell during his long residence in Petersburg and their love for him as pastor and friend, the congregation of St. Joseph's will, in the early future, place in the church a large and handsome painting commemorative of his pastorate and to serve as a memorial of him after death.

The painting will be executed in Rome and will cost some hundreds of dollars. Its design has not yet been fully decided on. Father O'Farrell's life in Petersburg has been an active one, and crowned with good works. No pastor has been more popular with or more beloved by the people of all creeds. The beautiful church of which he is the epastor was erected under his ministry and is a monument to his zeal and energy. This edifice cost $35,000. St. Joseph's Academy, on Market Street, costing $50,000, the gift of Mrs. Thomas Ryan, of New York, is another testimonial of his good work. His congregation has been largely increased and now numbers many hundreds of souls. And his work is not confined alone to the city.

Fredericksburg Fair

Prospects Are for Best Exhibition Ever Held—Reunion of Confederate Soldiers Will Be Feature.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fredericksburg, Va., September 23.—The Rappahannock Valley Agricultural and Mechanical Exposition opens its next Tuesday for a three-days exhibition. This fair has been held annually for the last twenty-five years, and has always been a success. People from all of the surrounding country attend each year, and the women take great interest in it, as a large number of them exhibiting their household products. This year the fair will be of more than usual interest, as the object of the exposition is to raise money for the benefit of the soldiers of the late Civil War, and the reunion of the Confederate soldiers will be a feature of the fair.

The first fair of new cotton from Greenwell county, Va., was held yesterday by Robinson & Priddy, Inc. It was grown and shipped by W. R. Cato, of that county.

The Rev. George Mussen, of Ohio, who is traveling South for the benefit of his health, will preach at the Washington Street Christian Church on Sunday. Mr. Mussen is a veteran of the war and was thrice captured, twice making his escape.

but extends into the neighboring counties.

Father O'Farrell was born at Harper's Ferry in 1850, the natal place also of the Very Rev. Father J. J. Bowler, Vicar-General of the Diocese, and of Father Raymond Tieney. These were all boys and playmates together. He was ordained to the priesthood in Baltimore December 20, 1879, and before coming to Petersburg had charges in Amelia county, Staunton and Fredericksburg.

The reception in honor of Father O'Farrell to-night was a very brilliant affair, and was attended by great numbers of people, who streamed in and out of the parochial residence from 8 to 11 o'clock. The residence was brightly illuminated, and music and refreshments were provided. Father O'Farrell received the many hundreds of guests standing, and warmly grasped the hand of each. Among the visiting priests were Fathers O'Reilly, DeGrasson, Kaup, of Richmond; Father Perrier, of Fredericksburg; Father Keating, of Norfolk; Father Halter, of Portsmouth; Father Tieney, of Lynchburg; and Father Konick, of Prince George.

Many prominent laymen of Richmond and other points were also present.

formal opening exercises the first of the week, at which addresses were made by President Tyler and Dr. J. L. Hall, dean of the faculty. The attendance is at least as large as last session, more than 200 men being here now. William and Mary is beginning to feel the effects of the high school system, many young men entering direct from these institutions, well prepared for the normal work.

The Young Men's Christian Association held its annual reception Tuesday night, with a large and enthusiastic attendance. Many young men joined the association. Coach J. M. Blanchard, who was coach for William and Mary several years ago, is trying out the candidates for the football team. As most of the best men of last year's eleven are back, a strong team is looked for. The team will play Virginia at Charlottesville to-morrow.

The Phi Beta Kappa Society has established a scholarship at William and Mary, and it has on hand now over $1,000. The income from this sum will be used to give a scholarship to a son of some member of the society.

M. H. Barnes, J. R. Jordan and W. C. L. Taliaferro, a special committee from the board of visitors, held a meeting here yesterday to arrange for awarding the contract for a new heating and light plant. OFFICIALS OF SOUTHERN RAILWAY VISIT ASHEVILLE Held Conference With Business Men in Interest of Development of Western Section.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Asheville, N. C., September 23.—Before one of the largest and most enthusiastic body of business men ever collected at the Virginia Railway and Southern Railway, made a strong address in the interest of the development of this section of North Carolina.

President Finley, accompanied by Vice-Presidents A. B. Andrews and H. B. Spencer, Traffic Passenger Manager, S. H. Hardwick, General Superintendent G. R. Loyall, Land and Industrial Agent M. V. Richards, and others, arrived in Asheville Thursday morning in Mr. Finley's private car. The party made a thorough inspection of the whole city and vicinity yesterday, including a trip to Overlook Park, where Dr. W. S. Grove is considering the erection of a million dollar tourist hotel. The officials are not interested in the establishment of this enterprise, but it is their intention to give it their moral support.

President Finley talked for over an hour to the business men of the city to-night. He declared that he was thoroughly interested in Asheville and the western part of North Carolina, and he predicted a great future for Asheville and the entire section.

As a result of a conference between the officials and Asheville business men to-day in the Board of Trade rooms, it was determined that the Southern Railway Company will place a man in Western North Carolina with special reference to the growing and handling of fruit, especially apples.

Second, the Southern Railway Company will, within a short while, place a special man in the field to secure immigrants for Western North Carolina from other sections.
